[The origin of the company name]

We named the company "Elevator Service" based on our belief that "the maintenance business is a service business."

We have been and will continue to provide our customers with not only technical skills, but also with common sense and business manners as a member of society.

We will strive to be a trustworthy organization of engineers.

The JES Group logo, inspired by the "elevator cage suspended by ropes," uses the colors of the rising-sun flag, reminiscent of the Japanese national flag, with an eye toward overseas expansion.
